

DUXBURY HISTORY FILE REFERENCE

The Mutual Federal Savings Bank in Whitman.

The Summer Street train station in Kingston.

Two firms win Renaissance Awards

Two area businesses were recognized with 1995 Plymouth County Renaissance Awards for achievement in the rehabilitation of commercial and industrial properties by the Plymouth County Commissioners.

Mutual Federal Savings Bank received an award for the rehabilitation of its main office at 570 Washington St., Whitman Center. Project cost was $715,000 to restore the facility, which was built in the mid-19th century. Work was completed earlier this year.

Railroad Station Corp. was recognized for restoring the former train depot at 63 Summer

St., Kingston. Owners Ginger Dameron and Diane Nielsen spent $250,000 to rehabilitate the structure, built in 1845. Work was completed in March. Now home to a deli, bakery and ice-cream shop, the building is virtually unchanged from 150 years ago.

The Renaissance Award program honors individuals and firms for accomplishments in rehabilitating commercial and industrial properties in Plymouth County. For more information or to submit a nomination, write Brooks Kelly, Executive Director, Plymouth County Development Council, P.O. Box 1620, Pembroke, Mass. 02359; or call (617) 826-3136. □